Emergency Services, E-911 Service, Message Relay Service

Emergency Services Enhanced E-911

The Emergency Services Enhanced E-911 feature provides you with access to emergency services from your MTS Prepaid wireless phone. The 9-1-1 dedicated network, provided by MTS, includes the technology to route a 9-1-1 call to the correct central answering center. Information about the caller, including their wireless number and the location of the nearest wireless tower, (providing the caller is in a 9-1-1 serving area) would then be forwarded to the correct emergency response agency. With Enhanced 9-1-1 services, Emergency operators are also able to view your Prepaid wireless number should a call to 9-1-1 be disconnected when in a 9-1-1 serving area.

Effective February 1, 2010, MTS will be implementing some changes to its existing Wireless E-911 service. MTS customers will now have access to an Enhanced E-911 service. This enhancement will help emergency operators to better locate callers who dial 9-1-1 from a mobile phone.

Are there limitations?

The A-GPS technology may not be able to provide the exact location of the 9-1-1 call and will depend on many factors. Please visit www.mts.ca/cellphonesafety for more information.

Who is eligible:

- Customers inside the MTS wireless network coverage area and in a landline E-911 servicing area.
- Customers with mobile phones that are Assisted-Global Positioning System (A-GPS) capable.

Please consult our website at mts.ca/WirelessE911 for more information.

Message Relay Service (MRS)

Message Relay Service (MRS) allows specific conversations to take place over a regular phone line using a keypad and an operator. Each month 75¢ will be deducted from your MTS Prepaid Wireless account for these features.

Cell Phone Safety

In the unfortunate event that you need to call 9-1-1, there are some very important safety tips that are worth remembering to ensure that you receive the help that you need:

- The operator may not know your wireless number or location, so please provide both your 10-digit phone number and a detailed description of the surrounding area (e.g. exit numbers, street signs, landmarks).
- Indicate the emergency that you are calling about and the emergency services required
- Wait for the operator to tell you it is okay to hang up
- Leave your phone on so that the operator can call you back

Please note: Not all local governments in Canada operate 9-1-1 systems. Wireless carriers will try to route 9-1-1 calls to an appropriate call-taking agency (the local police department, for example) in areas where no 9-1-1 service exists. However, if you routinely use your mobile phone in areas where a 9-1-1 system does not exist, you should know the phone numbers for local police, fire and ambulance services.

To ensure that you do not accidentally call 9-1-1, please do not program 9-1-1 into your phone.

Texting During an Emergency

Most mobile phones can send text messages, but remember that you cannot send text messages to 9-1-1.

During a large-scale emergency, such as a natural disaster, voice networks can become congested or overloaded with an influx of mobile phone voice calls. This can result in people not being able to speak with those they want to contact, such as friends or loved ones. In some rare instances, congestion on the voice network can also hinder communications among emergency service personnel.

Text messages, however, use less network capacity than normal mobile phone voice calls and may be more reliable for brief communication with friends or loved ones during emergencies. So, even if a network is congested with voice calls, a text message to a friend or loved one may have a higher likelihood of getting through sooner than a voice call. And equally as important, by texting during an emergency, you are freeing up the voice lines for emergency officials to use.

Vouchers are valid for use until expiration indicated on the Voucher, or, in the case of credit card or ABM deposits, are valid for use until expiration as communicated to you at the time of deposit. Airtime and other rates are established at time of deposit of the Voucher value into your Prepaid Wireless account.

No-Commitment Plans - No-commitment monthly data plans can also be established. The activation date of such a plan will establish your first "Plan Month". MTS will charge the applicable monthly plan fee upon activation and at the beginning of each Plan Month thereafter until you terminate or change the Service. Any included Service not used during the Plan Month will be forfeited to MTS. If you use all included data before the end of a Plan Month, you may purchase more of the Service by selecting another plan option. By doing so, you will establish a new Plan Month.

Changes - Expiry dates are subject to change without notice and the rates for Vouchers and Prepaid Wireless service features and pricing are subject to change without notice.
